A static map, representing the live data which are found here: https://arcg.is/1jrDnO. The map focus is on broadband service availability in New Mexico by county. The left frame shows broadband service availability according to the latest publicly shared data from the Federal Communications Commission (FCC), for service as of June 30, 2023 and as challenged (11/14/2023). The frame on the right shows broadband service availability as it should be once all federal and state grant awards are built. This "deduplication of enforceable commitments" was calculated using the grant data as of 2/7/2024 (federal) and 2/27/2024 (state).
